

Styles of Hearing Aids

Buckbee Hearing Aid Center provide hearing aids of various sizes and styles including the following:

Open Fit BTE

These hearing aids are the most natural-feeling hearing aids and are fit on those with mild to moderate high-frequency hearing losses.

CIC - Completely in the Canal

This type of hearing aid fits entirely within the ear canal, barely seen by others. CIC hearing aids are fit for those people with mild to moderate hearing losses.

ITC - In the Canal

This type of hearing aid, slightly larger than the CIC, is also designed for those with mild to moderate hearing losses.

ITE - In the Ear

These hearing aids fit within the concha of the ear and are appropriate for those with mild to severe hearing losses.

BTE - Behind the Ear

These hearing aids fit behind the ear with an earmold fitting in the ear. These are appropriate for those with mild to profound hearing losses.

Testimonials

“From the first time that I decided on Buckbee Hearing Aid Center and through the years that followed, the courtesy, caring and service has been superb and of the highest standards. I think the largest thank you cannot express my satisfaction. Thank you very much for everything.”

“I am more than happy to tell the people I meet about my satisfaction with these new ReSound Pulse aids. They are great - comfortable, improved hearing, no outdoor whistling. Your service is capable, professional, there when needed and courteous.”

“The service of my hearing aids is excellent. When I received my first hearing aids, I received great respect in reference to the testing and care in the process. If I needed help, you were there for me. I would recommend you to my friends - and pass the word.”

History

Buckbee Hearing Aid Center was founded by Cheever D. Buckbee, and has served central Pennsylvania since 1969.

Cheever C. Buckbee, son of Cheever D., owned and operated the business from 1984 through 2005. Cheever C. was adored by his clients because of his kind and gentle spirit and his willingness to help in any way possible.

Buckbee Hearing Aid Center is now a third generation family owned business owned by Keith Buckbee. Keith assumed leadership of the business in 2005, earning his PA state credential in 2006.

Buckbee Hearing Aid Center has always been an ethical business where the customer is always first.
